The 4680 is 46mm in diameter and 80mm high total volume is 3680mm³. The 18650 is 18mm diam and 65mm high total volume is 1170mm³. So already you can see that the new battery has 3 times the volume. If you count to that that you have much more usable volume in the bigger battery you realise that Tesla has made almost no gains in energy density.
