This Application Note shows how AUTOLAB and NOVA is used to perform GITT tests on a Li-ion battery. Here, galvanostatic charge pulses are applied, each followed by relaxation time, until the upper potential limit is reached. Then, discharge pulses are applied, followed by equilibration time, until the lower potential limit is reached. From the potential vs. time plot, important information ...

A lithium-ion or Li-ion battery is a type of rechargeable battery that uses the reversible intercalation of Li + ions into electronically conducting solids to store energy. In comparison with other commercial rechargeable batteries, Li-ion ...

March 23, 2023: Planning has started on deploying lead battery technology at the heart of two innovative pilot energy storage systems in off-grid communities in Zambia and Ivory Coast, the Consortium for Battery Innovation announced on March 20.
